Exhibit Design Regulations

Please review these regulations. This information is provided to assist you in planning your booth construction to make more effective use of your space without infringing on the rights of your neighbors. The NADA Exhibit Design Regulations are incorporated into the Contract Terms and Conditions and the Exhibit Rules and Regulations of your Exhibit Space Application/Contract. NADA strictly enforces these regulations for the benefit of all exhibiting companies.

First Aid

First aid will be available during move-in, show days and move-out. Location of first aid stations will be clearly marked with signs in the Las Vegas Convention Center.

Exhibitors wanting to serve food and beverages in their booths should contact Centerplate at 702.943.6779. A food and beverage order form is included in the online Exhibitor Service Kit under "Facility/Other Contractors." Please note: Peanuts and Popcorn are not permitted on the exhibit floor.

Floor Plans

All exhibiting companies are required to submit booth drawings/renderings of their booth design, along with a completed Exhibit Booth Floor Plan Reporting Form to Show Management by January 7, 2022, regardless of booth size. This booth drawing/rendering must show all dimensions (height, width, etc.) and location of all structures (including walls), equipment, merchandise, vehicles or any other product which will be placed in your booth. This form is located under "NADA Show 2022 – General Information."

Official Contractor

The Official Contractor provides all show services other than supervision. The exhibitor shall provide only the material and equipment that is to be used in the exhibit space. All other terms of show services are to be provided only by the Official Contractor. Exceptions to the foregoing will be granted only in cases where permission has been requested in writing by the exhibitor and received by the NADA Expo Department by January 14, 2022. An exception will be granted only if it will not interfere with or prejudice the orderly set-up, commitments and obligations assumed by NADA in any contract with the Official Contractor, or in its agreement with the lessor of the exposition space. (See policies on "Exhibitor Appointed Contractor" under "NADA Show 2022 – General Information") To make it possible to set up the exposition in the limited time available and to avoid confusion and congestion, the Official Contractor must control all in-bound and out-bound traffic in the loading and unloading areas, in the aisles, or in other freight patterns. Exceptions will be made for small items that can be hand carried by individuals.

The Official Contractor for the NADA Show 2022 is Freeman. NADA Show Management also has designated certain other companies as "official" service contractors and strongly encourages exhibitors to use these contractors in lieu of non-official suppliers. NADA does not receive any monetary remuneration from designated official contractors, nor does NADA receive any portion of the fees paid by exhibitors to these official contractors. Official contractors sometimes provide necessary show-related services to NADA for free or at discounted rates. Support from official contractors helps NADA slow rate increases for various services offered to exhibitors and attendees. By using the official contractors, you help support NADA, meeting attendees, and your own company.

Official Contractors

The National Automobile Dealers Association has contracted with companies (herein referred to as "Official Contractors") to provide various services to the exhibitors. Forms for obtaining the necessary services from each Official Contractor can be found under "Facility/Other Contractors." All services not ordered in advance must be procured through the Exhibitor Service Center, located in Hall WI and N4 of the Las Vegas Convention Center.

While all Official Contractors have some extra equipment available on-site, they cannot anticipate all exhibitors' needs. PLEASE ORDER YOUR SERVICES IN ADVANCE! On-site orders for some services will cost your company additional money. All contractors deliver advance orders first; on-site orders are delivered as time and availability of equipment permit.
